

Dragon Delivery

How does one acquire ingredients, information, or letters the fastest in a world where cars or planes don't exist? It's simple a dragon delivery system. Weiss a dwarf that works full time in Dragon delivery and transport, D&T for short, is about to clock out of his shift in 30 minutes when suddenly his boss Sine calls him over.

"Weiss! Come here Weiss I got one more delivery for you here." said Sine as he plopped a package on to the table. "It needs to be delivered to the Eclipse Kingdom next to the plaza."

"With all do respect sir I'm about to clock out in 30 minutes, the Eclipse Kingdom is 15 minutes away on dragon, and I don't get paid overtime." Replied Weiss.

"Well, you better get to it then clocks ticking. Remember, customer satisfaction is our top priority." Remarked Sine. "Or you could find someone who will do it for you, ask Blain. Look there he is right know. Hey Blain, can your ride fit another order?"

"Sorry sir, I really can't take another order." Replied Blain. "I'm already dragging twelve packages on my dragon, and he can only hold so much."

"Well, you heard him, Weiss." said Sine, "Go deliver that package, times ticking."

"Alright boss, I'll get to it" Replied Weiss as he picked up the package and strapped it on to his dragon Erwin.

"Come on boy, just one more delivery and we can rest Erwin, let's go to the Eclipse Kingdom." Said Weiss.

"Do you smell that? Smells like a storm I can't fly in a storm my wings might get electrocuted." Said Erwin.

"Just out fly the storm." Replied Weiss.

"Alright if you say so, but hold on tight." Said Erwin.

Erwin flew high up into the clouds at 400 kmph straight into the storm ahead. CRACK BOOM As lightning struck the ground. CRACK BOOM Lightning struck once more.

"That's odd," Weiss said to Erwin" lightning never strikes twice in the same spot, unless..."

"Lightning sprites up ahead." Said Erwin. As he tilted his head in the direction of a group of pudgy wolf like animals that were playfully zapping each other with lightning.

"LIGHTNING SPRITES!?! Exclaimed Weiss. You mean THE lightning sprites that are VERY territorial and use lightning storms as a mean of self defense to zap any intruders who dare step upon their land?

“Don’t worry as long as they don’t see us they won’t attack” said Erwin as he kept trying to outfly the storm, when suddenly they heard growling. A lightning sprite had spotted them. “Welp, they saw us, I’ll get us out of here hang on.”

Erwin tilted his body upwards and raised above the clouds.

“Looks like we’re safe.” said Weiss.

“Don’t jinx it, lightning sprites are feared even among dragons due to that fact that they can make lightning strike upwards above the clouds and it could hit us at any moment- ” CRACK BOOM lightning struck Erwin in the tail. He fainted and began falling down.

“ERWIN! WAKE UP WAKE UP WE’RE GONNA CRASH!” exclaimed Weiss desperately CRACK BOOM lightning struck again but this time on Erwin’s head, the lightning sprites were definitely responsible for this.

One lightning bolt can kill, two will surely finish the job, however instead of staying dead, the sudden surge of electricity restarted his heart. Erwin woke up just in time; they were twenty feet from the ground. Erwin regained his composure and began ascending once more.

“ERWIN YOU’RE AWAKE THANK GOD! I thought you died.” said Weiss with relief.

“I did, they had me in the first half not gonna lie, the first lightning strike I did die, the second one restarted my heart. And now I feel different.” Replied Erwin.

“How different?” Asked Weiss.

“I’ll show you.” Said Erwin “Hold on tight I’m going to speed up.”

Somehow Erwin had become faster, like as fast as lightning and they soon arrived in the Eclipse Kingdom.

“Woah that’s SO COOL how did we get here in 5 minutes?” Asked Weiss.

“I have a theory but first let’s deliver the package.” Replied Erwin.

The package was delivered safely, and they soon started to head back.

“So now tell me how’d you do it?” Asked Weiss.

“I think I became a lightning dragon.” Said Erwin.

“What’s that?” Asked Weiss.

“There’s an old tale that says that if a dragon survives lightning twice it shall be reborn into a lightning dragon, one that travels as fast as lightning.” Said Erwin.

“Really now? Well that’s wonderful, you’ll become employee of the month indefinitely. You could get a raise and be promoted to senior dragon manager.” Said Weiss.

“Interesting, anyways hold on tight I’ll get us both back before your shift ends.” Said Erwin.

CRACK BOOM like lightning they flew back to HQ where they told their manager about Erwin's rebirth and Erwin got his raise. In the end Weiss clocked out on time and didn't do overtime.
